The City Council shall not overrule a majority protest unless it finds that the public health, safety or general welfare require that provision be made for the installation of the proposed Public Facilities Project(s). In the event a majority protest is not withdrawn or overruled, the City Council shall not, for one year from the filing of that written protest, commence or carry on any proceedings for the same Public Facilities Project under the provisions of this Division. If any majority protest which is not withdrawn or overruled is directed against only a portion of the Public Facilities Project, then all further proceedings under the provisions of this Division to construct that portion of the Public Facilities Project so protested against shall be barred for a period of one year; but the City Council shall not be barred from commencing new proceedings, not including any part of the Public Facilities Project so protested against. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the City Council within a one-year period, from commencing and carrying on new proceedings for the construction of a portion of the Public Facilities Project so protested against if it finds, by the affirmative vote of four-fifths of its members, that the owners of more than one-half of the area of the property to be benefited are in favor of going forward with such portion of the Public Facilities Project.
